This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

The Formation of the Club.

The Call for a National Club.

NEW YORK, January 15, 1863.

SIR:

The urgency of the present great national crisis, and the revolutionary schemes which unprincipled men are plotting to accomplish, make it the immediate duty of all loyal citizens so to organize themselves as to give the most efficient support to the national cause.

It is, therefore, proposed to form in the city of New York a club which may be known as the National Club, the objects of which shall be to cultivate a profound national devotion, as distinguished from that of sectional feeling; to strengthen a love and respect for the Union, and discourage whatever tends to give undue prominence to purely local interests; to discuss and urge upon public attention large and noble schemes of national advancement; to elevate and uphold the popular faith in republican government; to dignify politics as a pursuit and a study; to reawaken a practical interest in public affairs in those who have become discouraged; to enforce a sense of the sacred obligations inherent in citizenship; and, finally, to bring to bear upon the national life all that a body of earnest and patriotic men can accomplish by united effort.

It is believed that an association of such men under a simple organization of a social character, frankly exchanging views upon great questions and actively engaged in disseminating them, could accomplish a noble work. The only requisite for membership, besides unblemished reputation, should be an uncompromising and unconditional loyalty to the Nation, and a complete subordination thereto of all other political ideas.

Should these objects meet with your cordial approbation and sympathy, and should you be disposed to take part in the proposed organization, you will please address one of the undersigned at your earliest convenience.

Very respectfully your obedient servants,

WOLCOTT GIBBS, 56 East 29th Street.
GEORGE T. STRONG, 74 East 21st Street.
HENRY W. BELLOWS, 59 East 20th Street.
CORNELIUS R. AGNEW, 362 Fifth Avenue.
GEORGE C. ANTHON, 83 East 35th Street.
GEORGE GIBBS, 261 Greene Street.
GEORGE F. ALLEN, 42 East 24th Street.
WILLIAM J. HOPPIN, 61 Pine Street.

The Union League.

The undersigned agree to associate under the name of The Union League, and to adopt the following fundamental articles of association, to wit:

1. The condition of membership shall be absolute and unqualified loyalty to the government of the United States, and unwavering support of its efforts for the suppression of the rebellion.

2. The primary object of the association shall be to discountenance and rebuke by moral and social influences all disloyalty to the Federal Government, and to that end the members will use every proper means in public and private.

3. We pledge ourselves by every means in our power, collectively and individually, to resist to the uttermost every attempt against the territorial integrity of the Nation.

To meet the necessary expenditures, each member shall pay to the Treasurer, annually in advance, the sum of ten dollars.

There shall be a standing committee consisting of nine members, who shall have a general supervision of the concerns of the League.

There shall also be for the present a committee on admissions, consisting of seven members, whose duty it shall be to pass upon the name of each candidate, who may be presented for membership.

The officers of the League shall consist of a Secretary and a Treasurer, to be elected with the committees on the second Wednesday in January in each year hereafter.

Members of similar organizations, elsewhere established and recognized by this League, shall be entitled, when in New York, to all the privileges of membership, subject to such regulations as the Standing Committee may determine.

city of New York, to promote, encourage, and sustain, by all proper means, absolute and unqualified loyalty to the Government of the United States; to discountenance and rebuke, by moral and social influences, all disloyalty to said Government, and every attempt against the integrity of the nation; and in furtherance of these objects, to establish and maintain a Library and a Gallery of Art and Military Trophies, especially devoted to the perpetuation and illustration of the patriotic services and sacrifices by which the existing struggle against rebellion has been characterized.

SEC. 2. Said corporation shall have power to make and adopt a constitution, by-laws, rules, and regulations for the admission, suspension, and expulsion of its members, and their government, the collection of fees and dues, the number and election of its officers, and to define their duties, and for the safe-keeping of its property, and from time to time to alter, modify, or change such constitution, by-laws, rules, and regulations. 1. The condition of membership shall be absolute and unqualified loyalty to the Government of the United States, and unwavering support of its efforts for the suppression of the Rebellion.

2. The primary object of the Association shall be to discountenance and rebuke, by moral and social influences, all disloyalty to the Federal Government, and to that end the members will use every proper means in public and private.

3. We pledge ourselves, by every means in our power, collectively and individually, to resist to the uttermost every attempt against the territorial integrity of the nation.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLE OF ASSOCIATION, ADOPTED JANUARY 11, 1866.

4. It shall be the duty of the Club to resist and expose corruption, and promote reform in our National, State, and Municipal affairs; and to elevate the idea of American citizenship.

By-Laws.

OF OFFICERS AND THEIR DUTIES.

1. The officers of The Union League Club shall be a President, twelve Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and the members of the following Standing Committees: Executive Committee, Finance Committee, Committee on Admissions, Committee on Library and Publications, Committee on Art, Committee on Political Reform, and Auditing Committee; all of whom shall be elected by the members of the Club, at the annual meetings, and shall serve until their successors shall have been elected respectively, except so far as is otherwise provided by By-law No. 15.

2. The President, or, in his absence, the Vice-President senior in order of election, and present, shall preside at all meetings of the Club. In the absence of the President and all the Vice-Presidents, a presiding officer shall be chosen without ballot from the members of the Club. The President shall be, ex officio, a member of the Executive and other Standing Committees.

3. The Secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of the Club, and of the Executive Committee and the Committee on Admissions (of which Committees he shall be, ex officio, a member), and of all matters of which a record shall be deemed advisable by the Club, or by said Committees. The records of the Secretary, except those of the proceedings of the Committee on Admissions, shall, at all reasonable times, be open to the inspection of any member of the Club. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to notify members of their election, to keep a roll of the members of the Club, to issue notices for all meetings of the Club (with a brief mention of the business to be transacted when a special meeting is called), and to conduct the correspondence. He shall also be the keeper of the seal of the Club.

4. The Treasurer shall collect, and, under the direction of the Executive Committee, disburse the funds. He shall keep the accounts of the Club in books belonging to it, which shall be at all times open to inspection of the Executive Committee; he shall report in writing, at each quarterly meeting of the Executive Committee, the balance of money on hand, and the outstanding obligations of the Club as far as practicable, and he shall make a full report, at the annual meeting of the Club, of the receipts and disbursements of the past year, with such suggestions as to the financial management of the Club as he may deem proper. He shall turn over annually to the Finance Committee all surplus money accumulated from the current receipts of the year next preceding his report. He shall be, ex officio, a member of the Executive Committee and Committee on Admissions.

5. The Secretary and the Treasurer shall respectively have power, with the approval of the Executive Committee, to employ, at the expense of the Club, such clerical aid as may be necessary in the discharge of their duties.

6. The general affairs of the Club shall be managed by the Executive Committee, consisting of fifteen members. The Executive Committee shall, subject in all respects (except as to expenditures) to such instructions and limitations as may be from time to time prescribed by the Club, exercise a general superintendence over the internal affairs of the Club; shall control and manage its property; and enforce the preservation of order and obedience to its rules. All appropriations of the funds of the Club, except as provided in the 15th By-law, and all directions for the use of the Hall or Club-rooms for other than for Club purposes, shall be made by the Executive Committee. It shall make all necessary purchases and contracts, but shall have no power to make the Club liable for any debt or debts to an amount exceeding one half that which at the time of contracting the same shall be in the Treasurer's hands in cash, and not subject to prior liabilities. At every annual meeting it shall report its proceedings, and may, at any time, recommend such measures as it may deem advisable. The Executive Committee shall appoint a House Committee of three members, and may from time to time declare their duties. Whenever a Special Committee shall be appointed, a majority thereof shall be those not members of the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee is divided into three classes of five members each, and hereafter each annual election shall be for five members of said Committee, to hold office three years, to supply the place of the class retiring each year, and for such additional number, if any, as may be necessary to fill vacancies, to hold office during the remainder of the terms of the members whose places they fill.

No member of the Club who may have served on the Committee for three successive years shall, after the next annual election, be eligible again until at least one year after the expiration of his previous term of office.

7. The Executive Committee shall meet at least once in each month for the transaction of business, and eight members thereof shall be a quorum, except during the months of June, July, August, September, and October, when five members shall constitute a quorum.

8. The Committee on Admissions shall consist of fifteen members, and shall be divided into three classes of five members each. The annual election to be held on the 13th day of January, 1887, shall be for fifteen members, five of whom to hold office for one year, five to hold office for two years, five to hold office for three years, and thereafter each annual election shall be for five members of said Committee, to hold office for three years. The names and residences of all persons proposed for admission, with the name and signature of the member proposing them, and of the member seconding them, and date of posting, shall be first posted in a conspicuous place in the Club-house, at least fifteen days. They shall then be referred to the Committee on Admissions, the proceedings of which Committee thereon shall be secret and confidential, and no member of such Committee shall be questioned as to the action of the Committee. It shall be the duty of the Committee to make careful examination, and to consider all communications in reference to each individual proposed; they shall pass upon each name separately; but they shall not at any time pass upon any greater number of names than there are at that time vacancies to be filled under the 30th By-law. Two negative votes in the Committee shall prevent the recommendation of any person for membership. The Committee shall fix its own place and time of meeting. At every monthly meeting the Committee shall report the names of such persons proposed as they recommend for admission; and the Club shall thereupon proceed to vote, by ballot, upon the names so recommended. Negative votes to the number of one third of those cast shall exclude any person.

Members shall be elected only at the regular monthly meeting, but any non-resident member may at any time be classed as a resident member, by signifying his intention to that effect to the Treasurer and paying a further admission fee of one hundred and fifty dollars, and he shall henceforth pay the full annual dues.

9. No person shall be proposed or admitted to be a member of the Club who is not at the time a citizen of the United States, having a right to vote, and who does not answer to the following requirements of the original Articles of Association of the Club.

"The condition of membership shall be absolute and unqualified loyalty to the Government of the United States,"

And every person elected a member shall pledge himself to do all in his power to carry out the primary objects of the Club, which are to discountenance and rebuke by moral and social influences, and by all proper means, both in public and private, all disloyalty to the Federal Government, and to resist to the uttermost every attempt against the territorial integrity of the nation.

10. No candidate who shall have failed to be elected by the Club shall be again proposed for one year, except upon the recommendation of the Executive Committee, such recommendation to be posted at least two weeks prior to a monthly meeting.

If any person elected shall not, within three months after notice of his election, left at or sent to his address, as specified by the member proposing him, signify his acceptance and pay his admission fee and annual dues, he shall be deemed to have declined to become a member.

11. The Committee on Library and Publication shall consist of seven members, and shall have charge of the Library and Reading-room, with authority to expend such sums of money upon the same as may be voted therefor by the Executive Committee or procured by voluntary subscription.

12. The Committee on Art shall consist of seven members. It shall be the duty of the Committee to expend such sums as shall be appropriated by the Executive Committee, or obtained by voluntary subscription, for procuring works of art and relics, and to make all proper efforts to enlarge and display the collection; and to procure and display in the Club-house from time to time loan collections of works of art.

13. The Auditing Committee shall consist of three persons, two of whom shall be a quorum. The duty of the Auditing Committee shall be to audit and settle the accounts of the Treasurer and Finance Committee, and to present their report thereof at each annual meeting.

14. The Committee on Political Reform shall consist of thirteen members, and shall have general charge of all matters coming under the Fourth Article of the Association, with authority to expend such sums of money as shall be appropriated to them by the Executive Committee or obtained by voluntary subscription.

15. The Finance Committee shall consist of five members, none of whom shall at the time of their election be members of the Executive Committee. They shall be elected by the Club by ballot at a regular meeting thereof, and only upon the nomination of the Executive Committee, which nomination shall be made at a regular meeting previous to that at which such election takes place.

The members of said Committee shall hold their offices until death, resignation, or removal for cause, and every vacancy occurring in the said Committee shall be filled by the Club on the nomination of the Executive Committee, in the same manner and under the same restrictions as hereinbefore provided.

The Treasurer of the Club shall at the end of each year pay over to the said Committee all surplus and unappropriated moneys which remain in his hands after payment in full of the disbursements and expenses of such year.

The moneys, the securities, and the proceeds of the securities so received by the said Finance Committee shall be invested in the securities of the United States or of the State of New York. Full power and authority is conferred upon the said Finance Committee to collect and receive such income, interest, and profits, and from time to time dispose of the said securities for the purposes aforesaid, and which shall continue to be invested as a reserve fund, until the further resolution of the Club, in relation thereto, adopted upon the same notice which is required for an amendment by these By-laws.

16. Any officer may be removed for cause, at any meeting of the Club, upon two weeks notice, and any vacancy in any office may be filled for the residue of the term by the Club, at any meeting thereof, except as herein otherwise provided.

Neglect on the part of any member of a Standing or Special Committee to attend three consecutive meetings of such Committee, shall be deemed a tender of his resignation of his office, which the Committee may accept, unless an explanation of such neglect, satisfactory to the Committee, shall be given.

Every Standing Committee, except the Finance Committee, shall have power to fill any vacancy in its membership until the next annual election, which shall be more than ten days after the vacancy occurs.

OF MEETINGS.

17. The annual meeting of the Club shall be held on the second Thursday of January, for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may come before it.

The general meeting shall be held at eight o'clock

P.M., but the polls for the election shall be opened at half-past six o'clock P.M., and they shall remain open for three hours.

At the monthly meeting in December, in each year, a Committee of seven shall be chosen by the Club at large, in such manner as shall then be determined, who shall select and post in a conspicuous place in the Club-house, at least ten days before the annual meeting, the name of a candidate for each office to be filled at the ensuing election. At the same meeting three inspectors and canvassers of the ensuing election shall be elected in like manner, any two of whom shall be a quorum; and, if necessary, the Club may fill vacancies at or before the election.

The rules and orders of Cushing's Manual shall govern the meetings of the Club, so far as they are applicable and not inconsistent with these By-laws.

One hundred members shall be a quorum at all meetings of the Club.

18. There shall be a monthly meeting, for the election of members and the transaction of business, on the second Thursday of every month, except July and August, at 8 P.M.

19. Special meetings of the Club may be called at any time by order of the President, with the approval of three members of the Executive Committee, and shall be called by the Secretary whenever the President or any Vice-President shall be thereunto requested in writing by twenty-five members, setting forth the purpose of such meeting. At any such special meeting no business, other than that specified in the call, shall be considered except by unanimous consent.

20. At the meetings of the Club the order of business, so far as the character and nature of the meeting may admit, shall be as follows:

1. Reading the minutes of the last meeting,
2. Election of new members.
3. Reports of Standing Committees.
4. Reports of Special Committees.
5. General business.

But this order of business may be changed by a majority of the meeting.

All Special Committees for any purpose shall be appointed by the presiding officer, unless otherwise ordered.

Whenever any resolution or action shall be proposed or pending in the Club, which calls for the expression of its opinion touching any public matter, if the same be objected to by any member, and such objection be seconded, it shall at once be the duty of the presiding officer to state the objection, and to call upon those who sustain the same to rise; and if twenty-five members shall rise in support of such objection, then such resolution, and subject of the proposed action, shall be referred to a Standing or Special Committee, who shall report thereon at the next meeting of the Club. And upon the coming in of such report, the same, and the resolutions, and the subject referred to, shall be deemed before the Club for discussion and action thereon, without further right of such objection.

No member shall be permitted to speak more than once on the same subject, nor more than ten minutes at one time, without the unanimous consent of the Club.

21. No person, not a member of the Club, shall be present at any meeting thereof, unless he shall be specially invited by the President or the House Committee.

22. All elections, except as otherwise provided, shall be by ballot, and a majority of votes cast shall be sufficient, except for the election of new members.

The Secretary shall furnish to the inspectors of elections, prior to the annual meeting, an alphabetical list of all members entitled to vote for officers at the ensuing election. The Secretary shall see that all By-laws regulating the elections of the Club are published at least once, as required by statute, and the inspectors of the election shall, before acting, take the oath also required by statute.

23. Proxies shall not be permitted.

OF MEMBERS.

24. No member shall receive any salary emolument, or profit from the funds of the Club, unless the same be especially appropriated by the Club and the Executive Committee.

25. No member shall give any money or gratuity to a servant of the Club.

26. All resignations shall be made, in writing, to the Executive Committee; but if made after the second Thursday of January, such resignation shall not discharge the member presenting it from his dues for the current year. All interest in the property of the Club, of members resigning, or otherwise ceasing to be members, shall be vested in the Club.

27. Reports.

Report of the Executive Committee.

The Executive Committee in presenting its annual report have abundant reason to congratulate the Club upon the prosperous state of its affairs. The finances have been carefully administered during the year and are in a satisfactory and gratifying condition. Fifteen thousand dollars of the bonded debt has been paid off out of the surplus revenue, leaving a balance of twenty-five thousand dollars to be hereafter liquidated; and six thousand dollars of the Club bonds in the hands of the Finance Committee.

Notwithstanding the expenditure of over ten thousand dollars in permanent improvements of the Club-house, and in the free reception tendered by the Club to M. Bartholdi and representatives of the French Government, there was a surplus, as shown by the Treasurer's report, of over fifteen thousand dollars. During the year the membership of the Club has been kept full, though there has been a marked loss by death and resignation.

On the first of January, 1886, there were

Vacancies	5
Total	1,600

The number of applicants for membership of the Club disposed of during the year were 103, while the number of new applications was 194, and the total number now recorded is 486.

The internal concerns of the house have been managed during the year with careful consideration, and substantial improvements made in the appointments of the Club-house. A new wine-vault has been constructed under the rear of the building enabling the Club in future to store its own wine. A fire-proof carpenter shop has been built outside of and adjacent to the Club-house, thus eliminating a dangerous element from our premises. Ventilating fans and apparatus have been adjusted for the better ventilating of all parts of the house, the billiard room thoroughly renovated, and devices introduced for economy in the consumption of coal and gas.

The Art and Library departments have received their due share of the careful attention of their respective Committees, conducing to the increased interest and pleasure of our members.

In politics, the mayoralty contest of last fall was the only matter that presented special interest to the Club during the year,—no important questions on State or National polity arising to demand attention.

The chief social occurrences of the year were the Ladies' reception in January last, and the Bartholdi reception in October. The latter was an unique affair, a graceful compliment to the distinguished representatives of the French Republic, befitting the Club's hospitality, and the early interest manifested by the Club in the proffered gift of the French nation to the American people, of the statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World."

The recent death and obsequies of ex-President Chester A. Arthur, called forth from the Club appropriate recognition of that sad event. The Clubhouse was draped with the emblems of mourning, and a special meeting had, and suitable action taken to express and record the honor and esteem entertained by the Club for our distinguished fellow-member.

Of the decease of Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock the Club also took suitable notice, and at a regular meeting appropriate resolutions were presented expressive of the high character of his military services as a general in the War of the Rebellion, and in recognition of his honorary membership of the Club.

During the year we have been called to mourn the the loss by death of many fellow-members, some of whose names were early upon our roll. Thomas Freeborn, Henry J. Scudder, William Heath, J. B. Chaffee, S. O. Vanderpoel, Charles Spear, D. C. Wilcox, Burr W. Griswold, H. P. Farnham, D. Van Nostrand, Dexter A. Hawkins, James H. Van Alen, Harrison Durkee, John H. Platt, E. T. Sherman, Owen B. Gibbs, John P. McKewan, Wm. C. Arthur, Joseph H. Weller, A. H. Baldwin, Wm. Laimbeer, R. B. Livermore, George H. Talman, John Greacen, Jr., Charles Stanford, Henry C. Ellis, Rowland Johnson, Winthrop L. Slater, and Rev. John Forsyth.

In conclusion, your Committee dwell with gratification upon the harmony which has prevailed in the Club during the past year. That while we cultivate social intercourse and generous hospitality, and seek to make our recreative hours genial and attractive to all, we forget not the high principles upon which our Union League Association is founded.

That we still exist to challenge the enemies of our national honor, the foes of American principles, the subverters of municipal government; ever upholding freedom with order, equality without communism, and free suffrage without mob-law.

Respectfully submitted.

JOHN H. HALL,
Chairman.

Report

OF THE

COMMITTEE ON ART.

The Committee on Art for the year 1886 respectfully submits the following report:

Your Committee has been somewhat hampered by the early resignation of some of its members, but it has nevertheless been able to present to the Club six exhibitions of paintings, five of oil and one of water-colors, which were carefully selected from private galleries, from dealers, and from artists' studios, with the view to aid and encourage American art as well as to please the tastes of the members of the Club and their friends, and judging from the generous comments of the press and the kindly expressions of approval from artists their efforts in this direction have not been without result.

The work of your Committee, as well as that of its predecessors, in behalf of American art, has found recognition from another quarter, and the Club is now the owner of a first-prize painting by "F. D. Millet," which adorns the walls of the reception room, and which was allotted to the Club by the gentlemen composing the Jury of Award at the American Prize Fund Exhibition, held last May, as an acknowledgment of its services in this direction.

In this connection your Committee desire to reiterate and emphasize the recommendations of the Art Committee of 1885, that an annual appropriation should be made to be invested in paintings or other works of art by American artists, which in the course of a few years would enable the Club to be the owners and not the borrowers of the adornments of at least a portion of its art gallery.

During the past year the portraits in the reading-room and a number of the paintings and crayons have been cleaned and repaired and some of them reframed.

The expenditures of the Committee have been $1,991.85, $684.50 of which was for bills left over from the Art Committee of 1885.

In conclusion your Committee begs to quote from a recent article in the N. Y. Tribune in relation to American art exhibitions which says:

"It is quality rather than quantity that tells in the long run, and the choice of pictures which can bear comparison with foreign works is a valuable service done to American artists. The Union League Club has done excellent work in this direction, and it is to be hoped that in the future its influence will be strongly exerted in behalf of good American art."

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. H. PAYNE,
Secretary.

Report

OF THE

COMMITTEE ON POLITICAL REFORM.

UNION LEAGUE CLUB, January 13, 1887.

The Committee on Political Reform respectfully submits the following report:

In considering the various subjects brought before it during the past year your Committee has been mindful of the By-law committing to its general charge matters coming under the Fourth Article of the Association, which declares that "it shall be the duty of the Club to resist and expose corruption and promote reform in our National, State, and Municipal affairs; and to elevate the idea of American citizenship."

It has also been kept in mind that the policy of the Club has been to reserve for occasions of special importance the exercise of its political force, and to avoid, save when required by grave reasons, such controversies as might disturb the social harmony so happily prevailing among its members.

This policy has been indicated on many occasions, and conspicuously by the adoption in 1877 of a report by this Committee to the effect that it "will be more in harmony with the conditions on which a club like this can prosper, to adhere to the advocacy of sound principles and not take part in conducting the canvass, however unsatisfactory, for the moment, that policy may be to the spirit of partisanship."

Acting within the limits thus indicated, your Committee has refrained from bringing before the Club various questions that have occupied its own attention and engaged its discussion. In respect to the measures which it has reported its purpose has been conservative.

Early in the year a proposed "Act to reorganize the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the City of New York", was referred by resolution of the Club to the Committee for consideration and report.

After careful consideration, and conference with a committee representing the originators of the bill, your Committee reported that, though fully recognizing the many and serious defects of the present organization of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and the resulting evils, they were not prepared to recommend the proposed bill to the Club for its support.

A proposed amendment of the Federal Constitution, which has passed the Senate and is now before the House, establishing as the time for inaugurating the President the anniversary of the first inauguration of President Washington, and thereby at once perpetuating an event of great national importance, and giving a much-needed extension to the short session of Congress, has been the subject of a carefully considered report from this Committee, and of favorable resolutions adopted by the Club.

The Committee considered the propriety of recommending special action in the recent State and Municipal elections, but decided to limit its report to the earnest endorsement of one candidate for high judicial position.

The subject of uniform laws regulating marriage and divorce, which by many has been long considered most urgent, has also occupied the attention of the Committee, and has been the occasion of an able and interesting report from one of its Subcommittees.

The earnest and successful labor of the municipal officers in punishing, by aid of the proper courts, the corruption in municipal affairs long since exposed, has superseded for the time any special effort in that direction on the part of your Committee.

In reviewing the events of its official year, the Committee pauses to express its sincere sorrow for the death of two of its most prominent and respected members, Mr. Henry J. Scudder and Mr. Dexter A. Hawkins. A fitting tribute to the services and worth of Mr. Scudder has been given in the minutes submitted to the Club and approved by its resolutions.

The death of Mr. Hawkins, which occurred later in the year, has been the occasion of a memorial entered upon the records of the Committee, expressing the high appreciation in which he was held by his associates. His valuable services to the cause of education, his unselfish efforts for the right decision of questions affecting the public welfare, deserve a more extended notice than the limits of this report admit. The concluding words of the memorial do not exaggerate his worth:

"He was a courteous and faithful friend, an accomplished lawyer, a patriotic citizen, who neither held nor desired office; a fond father and husband, and a Christian man."

The foregoing summary of the action of your Committee is not designed to itemize its work, but to indicate to the Club that it has been alive to its duties and thoughtful in their discharge.

While it may not be the province of the Committee to forecast the future, an expression will not be thought untimely that points to a direction in which the Committee and the Club may use their influence with effect. "To elevate the idea of American citizenship" is announced in the Articles of Association as a duty of the Club.

The idea of American citizenship which the Club should maintain and elevate, was well framed, by one of its conspicuous founders, in language describing the kind of American citizens who should compose it, and the loyalty they should avow.

"I feel," he wrote, "that liberty and union is not all. Neither A. nor B. could with sincerity say, I believe, that they would not, if they could, have a privileged class in our society—a legal aristocracy. Both, I believe, hold, in their own hearts, European views on this subject. Both regard our society as a failure because of the want of a legally privileged class. Both feel something of contempt for a man —at least they feel themselves the natural superiors of a man—who does not feel himself to belong to a class which he thinks ought to be privileged. I, on the other hand, feel a certain contempt for, or a sense of superiority to, a man who wants any such legal setting up. They sympathize with what has always been the prevailing sentiment of the aristocratic and cultivated class abroad, and avowedly of only a very vulgar, presuming, and peculiarly snobbish class here. We sympathize with what has been a prevailing sentiment with the highest quality of men, peculiarly in our own country—the men, too, who formed our country and gave it to our keeping. To their sentiment in this respect, and to this quality given by them to our nationality, we are loyalists, they are renegades. We are the hereditary and natural aristocracy, they are parvenus; we are rich, they are vulgar."

By embracing the idea that this Club is a representative body of American citizens who believe in no legal privilege or preference for any class, and that all efforts to create such privilege or preference should be steadfastly opposed, the Club will retain the distinctive excellence which has belonged to it from its foundation, and will find ample field for useful action by itself and its committees.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS H. HUBBARD,
Chairman.

Address of Chauncey M. Depew.

Second Inaugural

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW, PRESIDENT.

GENTLEMEN OF THE CLUB:

I return you my thanks for the confidence exhibited by this second election to the Presidency. It is an honor the more highly appreciated as one knows better the history and character of the Club. I know of no position outside of official life so grateful to a citizen of New York. This organization differs widely from the other clubs which form so large a part of the social life of our city, in supplementing conditions for enjoyment equal to any of them, with an origin identified with an heroic period and an active and aggressive public spirit.

I am happy to report that the onerous and exacting duties of the past year have left your presiding officer in excellent health and with unimpaired powers. I am led from my experience with the administration and cares of this exalted position to doubt the reports so common in the daily press, that the labors and duties of government are undermining the constitutions and shortening the lives of those who have in charge the destinies of the Republic. I believe their impaired health and failing vitality are due to other causes than the performance of official duty. It is true that the President of the Union League is freed from those dissensions within and assaults from without which harass the Chief Magistrate of the Nation. The President of the United States canvasses the opinions of his party and discovers that so far as they are voiced by its leading representatives and newspaper organs there is a startling unanimity in disapproval of his course and anxiety that he may not be renominated. He looks for comfort to the partisans who voted against him, and finds them serenely contemplating a new campaign, under their own banner and for one of their own faith. But within these walls no strifes exist. There is always substantial unanimity. It is not because there is a dead level of common sentiment and opinion. It is not for the reason that we are deficient in opinionated, bumptious, and egotistical members, or men of marked, aggressive, and original ideas. Every element of diverse and warring conditions is here, and we are within ourselves a Miniature Republic. The reason these antagonisms do not break out in revolt, in revolution, and divide us into hostile camps, is because the government of the Club is a faithful reproduction of the ancient Athenian Democracy. Sixteen hundred members agreeing in the main upon the great questions which divide the country, and yet retaining the healthy friction of individual differences, render a loyal support to the management, because in our Democracy each so frequently has the opportunity tó participate. The committees formulate our policy and opinions, and once a month the whole Club criticises, amends, disapproves, or affirms. We admit that sixty millions of people could not govern themselves in that way ; but the Athenian Democracy, which produced the greatest poets, orators, philosophers, and statesmen of antiquity; which treated every citizen who believed the State could not exist without him, to banishment or the hemlock; which fostered and encouraged genius in every department of human intelligence,—adopted as the model for government by the Union League Club,—has given it permanence and power, and made it an important and ever-present factor in the public affairs of the Republic.

PATRIOTIC ORIGIN OF THE CLUB.

It would not be possible for any man to speak, in acknowledgment of his elevation to the presidency of this organization, without saying something of the spirit which underlies it and in which it was born. This Club lives not in the past; but it is proud of the past. It is not dependent upon what has gone before, but it has the inspiration of all the glorious things which placed it in being and have been the impetus of its life. It was created, not as clubs usually are, where men of similar pursuits, thoughts, inclinations, and social tendencies gather for mutual amusement, recreation, and the passing of idle hours; but at a time such as never before existed and we trust never will again—at a time when the country was in the throes of a revolution which threatened the national life, which threatened to engulf every interest and even liberty itself in a common ruin,—this Club sprang into existence. For the past thirty years, no matter what may have been said in derogation of this city, New York has been the metropolis of the nation. No matter what her government, or the criticisms upon it, the opinion of New York was vital in the affairs of the nation and to its civilization and progress. New York occupied much the same relation to the country, and does to-day, as Paris formerly did to France, though not quite so potential. It was an anomaly, it was insufferable, when the Republic was in the very agony of dissolution, that the city of New York should be in sympathy with those who favored its overthrow, and that its moral force should be on the side of the destruction of our institutions. It was to place New York where the city should be, to cultivate and concentrate and give expression to the loyal and patriotic sentiment of the metropolis, it was to infuse into our citizens a love of country which would be felt from one end of the land to the other, it was to put down disloyalty here and rebellion elsewhere, that the Union League Club was organized. It accomplished that mission, and in the most signal way. But the Union League Club is abreast of the times and the questious of the hour. When the issues of a purely patriotic character were settled, it lived on to take the phase of a social club, retaining always its natal spirit of interest in the public affairs of the day and the expression of its views upon them. To the Union League Club was largely due the impelling force which carried through the Reconstruction Acts, and put into the Constitution of the United States in permanent and enduring form the results won upon our battle-fields; which fought out in the press, in public prints, and upon the platform the principles of sound finance and honest currency, and maintained the national honor and credit.

A PRESENT FORCE.

The Club bears no animosities. It recognizes the conditions as they exist to-day, and will meet those which arise to-morrow without regard to the past. When it was developed that the war was actually over; that the great surging, resurrecting influences of universal liberty and unification were felt in the development of industries in all parts of the land; when the South, disenthralled and regenerated, found in its new life marvellous wealth and prosperity; when it sent here on the 21st day of December last an eloquent representative of its people, who, in a speech of twenty minutes, won a national fame, because he recognized a re-established brotherhood and oneness of national spirit in every part of our land;—the first to welcome and to cheer was the Union League Club.

FOR FREE LABOR.

We are in the midst of events which, on the surface, appear to threaten revolution, the overturning of our social relations, a permanent disturbance of the industrial conditions of the country, the loss of credit, and the paralysis of employment for labor and capital,—but they are not. There is a seething and bubbling of the elements which always precede and accompany great industrial and national prosperity. There never was a time when the signs were brighter for the healthful investment of capital and the remunerative employment of labor; for the development of the vast, the incalculable opportunities for national wealth and growth—than to-day. The anarchist sees that if there is to be universal prosperity nobody will join in the disruption of the State and society. The socialist knows that if there is to be a well-paid and permanent employment for labor, with its savings going into banks and homesteads, he will have no following for a general distribution of property, and the levelling of all to the standard of the least competent, industrious, and skilful. The labor agitator, who has no other vocation; who lives by assessing those whom he orders to strike; who can prosper himself only in periods of general distress, when men are looking anywhere and everywhere for help and relief—would stop the good times coming if he could, because in universal prosperity there is no place for him, and he must work. The Union League Club appreciates these conditions, and its voice is heard from one end of the land to the other in favor of law, of order, and all that tends to prosperity, happiness, and content; it is on the side of the largest liberty of the individual to do as he pleases with his muscles and brains—to work when he likes and be idle if he chooses, with no man or organization to molest or intimidate him.

A SIGNIFICANT CELEBRATION.

We had, during the past year, a celebration in this Club, which marked a most important event in the history of the Republic. Great battles are not the controlling causes of success in mighty revolutions. There have been only fifteen decisive battles of the world, according to authority, out of the hundreds of thousands which have been fought. The occasion which called us together was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the day when the first regiment of colored troops, and which this Club had raised, marched down Broadway accompanied by all our members. The multitude and magnitude of the crisis and events since then have obscured its importance, and it seems to belong to ancient history, but it is within most of our recollections. It was the significant recognition by the Union League Club of the lines upon which victory must be won, of the broad, deep, and enduring foundations which must be laid under the reconstructed Republic. It meant the citizenship of all men upon like conditions and their equality before the law. When to emphasize their work this Club marched down Broadway with that regiment, braving a hostile mob, and their wives, who had presented its flag, rode along defying the social ostracism of the hour, the news flashing over the country and penetrating the rebel line, inspired hope in the breast of every negro and poor white, and was a revelation to the world of the possibility and necessity of union without slavery, and with full citizenship and the broadest liberty as the common right of all. It meant the peace and perpetuity of the nation.

ITS WELCOME OF BARTHOLDI AND THE FRENCH.

We kept still abreast of the times when we recognized the full significance and spirit of that magnificent gift which the French people made to America. In our busy life, in the whirl and rush of our industrial and material pursuits, the people of this country did not for a while feel the generous spirit of this tribute. It was first recognized in this Club, and a Committee raised to prosecute the enterprise until its completion. It was by the exertion of that Committee and the triumphant efforts of the World newspaper that the pedestal was built and America put in a position to honorably receive the Statue of Liberty. When Bartholdi arrived, accompanied by the representatives of the French Republic, they were received within these walls, not only as guests, not only with ordinary hospitality, but with all the honors the Club could bestow, and with the representatives of every department of the Government to join in the salutation and welcome. It was telegraphed through the country, and aroused the enthusiasm of the olden time; flashed by the cable under the ocean, renewing the memories of a hundred years ago; and the world saw that the friendship of nations, surviving the centuries and keeping pace with the years, could grow brighter as the generations descend.

AMERICAN ART.

I desire to call your attention to a subject in which I think the Club can take a peculiarly appropriate and important interest. There are at present no great questions occupying our minds or time. But there are matters outside of political issues and in the field of general discussion and controversy which are important constituents of the forces of education and culture, or rather the germs of national character. Among them none are more important than the encouragement and development of art. Our Club has in its Gallery, at each monthly meeting, the best pictures of the different foreign schools, and on one memorable night during the year we were gratified and surprised by the success of the Committee in collecting a remarkable exhibition of the works of American artists. It was here that the idea of the Metropolitan Museum of Art originated and took practical and enduring form. Its projectors found that New York, alone among the great cities of the world, had no public gallery or collection where the people could enjoy the pleasure of seeing and studying the best results of the genius of all ages on canvas and in the metals and stone. The Metropolitan Museum, in its present and its promise, redeems our city from the charge of utter and beastly sordidness, and with municipal and individual benefaction it will become a grand treasury of the past and the popular college for the future. But its best features must necessarily belong to other civilizations than our own. We have money and mines, factories and farms, mills and telegraphs and railroads enough to give a distinctively American character to our industrial life; we have at last a recognized national literature; and we want and must have an equally original and universally recognized School of American Art. The idiosyncrasies produced by the commingling of all nationalities in our cities, the wild life of our plains, the picturesque conditions of our frontiers and plains and mining and hunting camps, and our unrivalled scenery, present unequalled opportunities. Now every palace and picture-gallery from Maine to the golden coast is filled with representations of court and castle scenes, of queens' drawing-rooms, imperial reviews, German and French soldiers, or cottage and tavern interiors of a peasant life foreign to us. Neither historical characters and events, or popular incidents or characteristics or scenery, recall or suggest any thing except to travellers, and to them only the memories of an idle day. We pay fabulous sums for these canvases, and in many cases the buyer purchases names, not works of art. He fears the sneer of the critic and Americo-phobiac; he would fight for his country's liberty or honor, but would die sooner than encounter the suspicion that he was ignorant of art, because his walls were hung with American pictures. The American artist whose paintings sell for two hundred dollars at home goes abroad for a few years, has his picture in the Salon, puts a foreign prefix or affix to his name, and gets two thousand dollars, in addition to the duty, for any thing he does. It would promote patriotism and immeasurably increase refinement and culture in its best sense, if under proper encouragement American genius was framing on undying canvases the glories of our history and heroes, and the beauties of nature's noble gifts, and the novel situations presented by the original conditions of our complex national life.

TARIFF TINKERS.

I firmly believe in the policy and beneficial results of a wise protective tariff, in encouraging and fostering our industries and products; but under the pretext of revenue, when the surplus is so great that it already threatens the peace and virtue of the country, interest or ignorance puts provisions into the statutes which threaten to bring the whole system into contempt. An alien dealer, a sharp lawyer, and a careless committee formed the combination which made possible a duty of thirty per cent. on works of art. Genius knows no limitations, neither of race, of territorial boundaries, nor of time. The productions of the modern Continental and English schools are among the noblest works of any age.

For our enjoyment and education, until we have a well-defined school of art, and always thereafter, as parts of every well-selected gallery, we should freely welcome these splendid creations. American artists did not ask for this protection; they have petitioned for its repeal. The Art Committee of this Club sent out a circular to American artists, requesting their views on the art tariff. Eleven hundred and ninety-seven answers were for free art, and only seven for the tariff. When in Europe recently, I found that young American artists were given the same advantage in the great studios and galleries as the citizens of the various cities. No differences were known and no distinctions made on account of nationality. But their position was annoying and mortifying. Their fellow-students, the English, French, German, Spanish, and Italians, could sneeringly say: "We give you freely every opportunity which our older civilizations possess and we enjoy, and you return the courtesy by putting a tariff of thirty per cent. on our pictures. It marks your judgment of the value of our works as against yours, with the same training and masters. There is heredity in art, and we have behind us Raphael, Titian, Murillo, Rubens, Reynolds, and a host of others; you have nobody." The influence of the Union League Club should be vigorously exercised for the recognition and development of American art. While pictures are the most durable and satisfactory of the investment of luxury, their value often fluctuates by the caprices of fashion, but the judicious discretion of our Art Committee could make native works of merit standards of taste in every collection.

TO ENCOURAGE AMERICAN ARTISTS.

The Club should be represented at each annual exhibition, and under the advice of its most competent members select and purchase a few of the best. This would come in time to be a decoration and medal, inspiring the most brilliant efforts and emulous rivalry. Our rooms, as the years advance, would mark the progress and growth of American art and its steadily increasing power for larger conceptions and nobler work, and many a genius who might otherwise die unknown would reach fame and fortune by having merited the favoring verdict of this Club.

ITS FUTURE.

I have heard the fear expressed, and several times it has come near breaking out into a temporary revolution, that the insuperable antagonism between the political and social elements of the Club must lead in time to the suppression of the one or the other. I do not believe it. The political exigency arises infrequently. The social conditions are here all the time. While once in twelve months, perhaps, this Club may be called upon to express itself with no uncertain voice upon public questions, during the rest of the year it should be, and is, the very best of Clubs in every sense that constitutes a perfect one. The Union League, it should be understood, while working in parallel lines with one party, will never become its slave or unquestioning follower. Its best influence is negative as well as positive. There is no State or National Convention of the Republican Party which dares put before the country nominees who would receive its disapprobation, because that would be the damnation of the ticket. But, gentlemen, after all, we have here a home which has no equal of its kind in this country or any other,—a home which is full of rest, of recreation, of sentiment, of reminiscence, and of good times. It is a most peaceful, comfortable, companionable, and restful refuge for the tired worker, the weary brain, or the lonesome member. Here we find our Library, with its cosy nooks, for the bent of every mind; the Reading-Room, with its equipment for the occupation of every hour; the Game Room, with its appointments for health, long life, and pleasure; the Art Gallery, to grow until it satisfies the varying tastes of the most cultivated guests and members; and all over the House, retreats, and corners, and easy chairs, where men can drop in congenial companionship, in rosy recollections, in affectionate intercourse, in the hot discussions of the business or politics of the day, cementing the friendships of the past, and forming new ones for the future.

Gentlemen, the completed record of our Club is a most unique and glorious history. As the time rolls on it will expand and develop in its social opportunities, but never ignore the purposes of its creation. While it will be each year a better Club, it will also become a greater power.
